No. 36.—The 30th January 1880.—Resolution by the Government of India, Public Works Department, No. 303G, dated Fort William, the 30th January 1880.

RE-ARRANGEMENT OF ENGINEERING STAFF CONSEQUENT ON LATE REDUCTIONS.

The reductions in the Engineer Staff under the Resolution of the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce, No. 2079, dated 31st July 1879, having been generally brought to a close, though it may still be necessary to give special leave to some officers of Royal Engineers when they return in considerable numbers from the Kabul Campaign, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to lay down the following bases on which to make promotions in the Engineer Establishment.

2. The scales of Executive and Assistant Engineers noted below have been arrived at on a consideration of the numerical strength of the Department under the Government of India on the 1st April last. It is found that the ratio of the number of Executive Engineers to that of Assistants was very nearly as 3 to 4, and the sanctioned scale of those classes is framed on that ratio. The numbers of Chief and Superintending Engineers were determined in Public Works Department Resolution Nos. 1506—33E.-G., dated 28th August 1879.

3. The total of the requirements of all provinces has been ascertained to be approximately as follows, and this has been accepted provisionally as the total sanctioned strength of the Engineer Staff throughout India:—

18 Chief Engineers.
46 Superintending Engineers.
356 Executive	"
476 Assistant	"

or a total of 896.

Deducting the number in Madras and Bombay there will be—

14 Chief Engineers.
37 Superintending Engineers.
285 Executive	"
381 Assistant	"

or a total of 717 officers directly under the Government of India.

These, again, divided according to provisional scales and Code rules, become as follows:—

Chief Engineers,	I Class	6
" "	II "	4
" "	III "	4
					14
Superintending Engineers,	1st Grade	13
" "	2nd "	12
" "	3rd "	12
					37
Executive Engineers,	1st Grade	55
" "	2nd "	69
" "	3rd "	71
" "	4th "	90
					285
Assistant Engineers,	1st Grade	128
" "	2nd and 3rd Grades and Apprentices	253
					381
TOTAL					717

4. The following is the distribution according to provisional scales:—

PROVINCES.	Chief Engineers, I, II & III.	Superintending Engineers.	Executive Engineers.				Assistant Engineers.
			1	2	3	4	1	2 & 3
Bengal	2	6	7	9	9	11	16	32	92
North-Western Provinces and Oudh	2	4	9	11	11	13	20	39	109
Punjab	2	5	7	10	10	12	18	35	99
Local Administrations	2	5	9	9	10	16	19	38	108
Military Works	1	5	5	6	7	8	12	23	67
Railways	5	12	18	24	24	30	43	86	242
	14	37	55	69	71	90	128	253	717

5. The Provincial and Irrigation Branches under the respective local Governments are treated as one, in accordance with the plan laid down for ultimate adoption in paragraph 8 of Public Works Department Resolution Nos. 1506-33E.-G., dated 28th August 1879.

6. It was also originally intended that the Executive and Assistant Engineers under local administrations should be brought on one list for promotion on 1st April 1880, but in dealing practically with the reduced establishment it has been found necessary to anticipate this arrangement.

7. The strength of the establishment actually on the permanent list, compared with the provisionally sanctioned scale, is as follows:—

	Actual.	Sanctioned.
Chief Engineers, I Class	6	6
" " II "	4	4
" " III "	2	4
		12
Superintending Engineers, 1st Grade	13	13

		511
		806
		717
		+ 89

or 89 officers in excess of requirements, who will have to be borne on the several lists as supernumeraries.

*8. The promotions therefore on the whole will be as follows:—

Superintending Engineer to Chief Engineer, III	2*
2nd Grade to 1st Grade Superintending Engineer	2
3rd Grade to 2nd Grade Superintending Engineer	6
Executive Engineer to Superintending Engineer, 3rd Grade	9†
Assistant Engineer, 1st to 4th Grade Executive	41‡

9. But before making promotions on the several lists, it is necessary to make some transfers, and to take the opportunity of removing all Civil Engineers from the Military Works Branch, and replacing them by Military Officers. Having regard however to the large number of Royal Engineer Officers of the Military Works Branch now absent on field service, the Civil Engineers of that Branch will remain temporarily attached to it until the Inspector-General can dispense with their services. The transfers are made in Notification No. 37 of this date. All transfers will have effect from 31st December 1879, and all promotions to vacancies now existing, whether arising from retirement or other casualty, will have effect from 1st January 1880.

13. Referring to Public Works Code, Chapter I, section 2, paragraph 46, henceforward the salaries of Chief Engineers will be personal and irrespective of the post in which they may be employed. A standing order will issue correcting the Code accordingly.

14. The following changes will be required in the table of periodical returns in the Departmental Code VI, vi, 57, which will shortly be corrected by standing order. Local Administrations should submit half-yearly recommendation rolls for promotions of Executive and Assistant Engineers which will be due in this office on the 28th February and 31st August, in addition to the annual one at the head of the table which should now include recommendations for all steps above First Grade Executive Engineer, both for local Governments and Administrations. The rolls ordinarily due on 28th February next should be submitted at once to enable the Government of India to make promotions on the general list for local Administrations, and on those of the Military Works and Railway Branches.

15. The Governor-General in Council has also had under consideration the subject of temporary promotions from grade to grade within a class. The system has led to complications, and in view of the number of permanent promotions now made, His Excellency in Council has decided that there shall be no further grade to grade promotions, but temporary promotions may continue to be made from class to class under existing rules.

16. The figures in the table in paragraph 4, showing the provisionally sanctioned scales, are subject to revision as the detailed tabular statements are received and considered by the Government of India. It is not intended to allow in Provinces, Administrations, or Branches of the Department, any margin over strength of staff required to fill sanctioned appointments in the Engineer Establishment on account of absentees on furlough, &c.

17. Where the total number of officers on any list exceeds the provisionally sanctioned scale (Code I, ii, 74), those in excess, beginning at the junior officer in the lowest grade, are to be entered as Supernumeraries, and their names printed in italics at the foot of the list.

HORACE A. COCKERELL,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The following Circular order is published for general information :—

Circular No. 4, dated Calcutta, the 6th February 1880.

From—A. MACKENZIE, Esq., Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal, Financial Dept.,

To—All Commissioners.

I AM directed to inform you that it has now been decided to take a general census of India in the early part of February 1881. The census is to be taken everywhere on the same day, save in a few exceptional tracts, regarding which special instructions will be given. It is thus essential that all the preliminary arrangements should be very carefully made, and that every district officer should form a clear conception of the task before him, and have all the necessary machinery in complete working order at the earliest possible date. There can be no better test of administrative ability than the manner in which a district officer carries through an operation of this kind.

2. The Government of India will probably appoint an Imperial Commissioner to supervise generally the arrangements in the different provinces. Meantime, the Inspector-General of Registration has been appointed ex-officio Deputy Superintendent of Census operations in Bengal, and all communications in connection with this matter should be addressed to him. He will practically act as an Under-Secretary to Government in respect of such correspondence. Circulars and orders issuing from his office must therefore be taken to be the orders of Government, and must meet with prompt and careful attention.

3. Each district officer is already in possession of Mr. Beverley's report on the census of 1871, and of the letter of the Government of India, No. 2, dated 20th February 1878, enclosing the report of the Committee appointed to consider the arrangements for the coming census in 1881. These reports should be carefully studied; for whatever alterations may, under the orders of the Government of India, be ultimately made in detail, they show very clearly the difficulties that have to be met, and the nature of the work that has to be done.

4. It has been practically decided to follow the recommendations of the Committee in paragraph 11 of their report, and to prepare, shortly before the day fixed for the actual synchronous census, a preliminary record of entries in the enumerator's schedules; that is to say, the enumerators will, as a general thing, before the census night, carefully fill in the schedules with all the information required in them, confining their work on the night of the census to checking and correcting these schedules so as to make them correspond with the facts as then found. (It is obvious that this preliminary record cannot be made in respect of the great floating population on the rivers of Bengal, or in respect of travellers. One of the points therefore to which special attention will have to be given hereafter is the means of securing correct synchronous registration in those cases where the preliminary record cannot be made. The point is merely noticed here in passing).

5. In order to the correct preparation of the preliminary record it is above all things necessary that the agency to be employed should be carefully organized beforehand, and that its work should be so distributed locally as to allow no part of the district population to escape enumeration. The Committee in paragraphs 34 and 45 of their report lay much stress on the accurate determination of boundaries and areas, remarking that this was a point in which the Bengal arrangements in 1871 were very defective. Much has been done since that year to remove conflicts and anomalies of jurisdiction, and it is believed that no practical difficulty should now be felt in dividing each district into circles which shall embrace the whole of the district area and no more. This is an operation which must be taken in hand at once.

6. Nearly every district has, it is understood, been supplied by the Boundary Commissioner with maps on the scale of one mile

Patna, Dacca, Bhagulpore, Durbunga, Mozufferpore, Backergunge, Sarun, Chumparun, Monghyr, Balasore, Faridpore, Nuddea, Jessore, 24 Pergunnahs, Gya, Shahabad, Purneah.

(2)—In the Press.

Rajshahye Booghly, Burdwan Bankoora, Beerbhoom, Moorshedabad, Dinagpore, Maldah, Kungpore, Bogra, Pubna, Mymensing, Nonkholy, Tipperah, Manbhoom, Julpigoree, and Deoghur.

to the inch. Complete lists of the survey villages included in all thannas of the districts named on the margin have been prepared and are now either printed in the press, or nearly ready for issue. In each of these districts the district officer should at once mark off each thanna into convenient circles, each circle comprising as far as possible a definite number of survey mouzals, so that no doubt may exist as to the precise boundaries of the circle.

He should then place each such circle in charge of some member of his district staff, utilising for this purpose Assistant and Deputy Collectors, Sub-Deputy Collectors, Canungoes, Inspectors of Police, and Sub-Inspectors of Police, Rural Sub-Registrars, and any other official or quasi-official agency at his disposal. Each circle officer should be furnished with a tracing of the district map showing his circle and the neighbouring villages, and with extracts from the village lists, and he should be directed to check carefully, upon the ground, the list of villages within his circle, entering all new villages and hamlets found, including those cases where groups of houses surveyed as part of an existing village have since separately grown to be villages or tolahs with distinct names of their own, referring all such new villages and all distinct groups of houses to the survey mouza within which they are situated, noting where old villages have disappeared, entering carefully local names where these differ from the survey names, and, generally, taking care to produce a complete record of the state of things as now existing. A record should also be made of all points within the circle where boats are habitually moored, and of all places, not being houses, where travellers ordinarily seek shelter. Special note should be made of any inhabited portions of a circle liable to change from river action, so as to require fresh local enquiry after the rains.

7. From these corrected lists village registers will eventually have to be prepared in forms that will be prescribed hereafter. It is essential, however, that every village, or separate group of houses representing a hamlet, and having a name of its own, should have a distinct number. The survey numbers of mouzas must of course be retained, but where new villages have sprung up within a mouza, or where more than one (residential) village or hamlet have been surveyed together, separate sub-numbers must be given to each. Every possible source of information, calculated to throw light on the subject, should be used by the district officers to check the village lists, especially the Land Registration and License-tax Records.

8. The number of circles in each district will vary with the size of the thannas and the agency available. The general principle to be followed should be by sub-dividing the work as much as possible to ensure close local investigation and accuracy in the final lists. In some cases it may be possible to make the circles so small that eventually the circle officer may become the chief supervisor of the enumerators working within his circle. But where this is not possible, the next duty of the circle officer will be to submit, for the approval of the district officer, a plan for the sub-division of his circle, into supervisors' sub-circles.* The sub-circles will next have to be divided into convenient enumerators' blocks. The agency to be employed as supervisors and enumerators will be as far as may be possible unpaid. The sooner these men are selected the better. Circle officers should therefore be instructed, while making their local enquiries, to ascertain what persons are qualified and willing to act as supervisors and enumerators, and should submit the names of such persons to the district officer. Instruction will be given by the Deputy Superintendent of Census hereafter as to the work to be done by them, the numbering of houses, &c., within the blocks, and other matters which will have to be attended to as the time of the census draws near. The object of the present circular is merely to start the work in each district.

* Each enumerator will eventually have to deal with from 60 to 100 houses. Each supervisor should ordinarily be able to look after the preparation of the preliminary records of 10 enumerators (extra supervisors being appointed to assist on the actual day of the census).

9. The foregoing instructions refer specially to rural tracts. In municipalities no difficulties should be experienced in respect of either local areas or agency. Each municipality should, however, be instructed to prepare its plan of operations as soon as possible. The villages composing unions may for the present be treated as rural villages; but of course any special agency available in such should be fully utilized.

10. Even in districts where the thanna lists are incomplete the thanna boundaries are locally known, and village lists, more or less accurate, are in existence. The district officers of these districts must follow, as far as possible, the procedure laid down above.

11. In some districts there are tracts in which synchronous enumeration on a single day will be impossible. These tracts are recognized to be—

Parts of Chota Nagpore;
Do. of Julpigoree;
Do. of Darjeeling;
The Chittagong Hill Tracts.

In the first three instances the local area of these tracts should be divided off into circles, sub-circles, and blocks, and treated in the same way as the rest of the country. Care must be taken that the local limits of these tracts are properly determined. In the Chittagong Hills special arrangements will be necessary, suited to local circumstances.

12. Similarly, in the Orissa and Chota Nagpore Tributary States and in Hill Tipperah the census will not probably be done on one day, and will have to be managed through the Chiefs; but no time should now be lost in instructing the Chiefs how to proceed. They should be induced to follow, as far as possible, in each case the same procedure as that adopted by the officers in charge of districts.

13. The Lieutenant-Governor has in this circular (of which a copy has been sent direct to each district officer) confined himself to general instructions, in order not to anticipate any detailed orders which the Imperial Commissioner may wish to issue. The work must, however, be started at once in every part of the country; and each district officer is requested to submit direct to the Deputy Superintendent of Census within four weeks of the receipt of this circular a full and detailed report showing—

- (1) The maps and village lists available for his district.
- (2) His plans for subdividing the local area and testing the village lists of his district.
- (3) The number of circles he intends to create in each thana and the agency that will have charge of these circles.

Fortnightly reports of progress made should follow regularly on the 15th and 30th of each succeeding month.

A copy of each of these reports should be sent by the district officer to his Commissioner.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor,

A. MACKENZIE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

III.—With effect from the 1st January 1880, each manager shall deduct and withhold the following sums from the salary of every servant employed under him and deposit them in the Savings Bank on behalf of the said servant, namely—

- (a) From each rupee of the salary of every married servant, or widower with children dependent on him, not being of purely Asiatic descent, and of any other servant who may in writing so desire, the manager shall deduct one anna;
- (b) From each rupee of the salary of every other servant the manager shall deduct half-an-anna.

IV.—As soon as the Revenue Account of a State Railway for a half-year is made up, one half per centum of the ascertained net earnings during the half-year shall, subject to the proviso in Rule V, at the discretion of the Government, and till further orders, be provisionally distributed as bonus among the depositors of the railway, in proportion to the compulsory deposits made on their behalf during the said half-year.

V.—If the net earnings of the whole calendar year exceed $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. upon the capital cost of the railway, an additional one-half per centum, making, in such case, one per centum of the net earnings for the whole year, shall be provisionally distributed in like manner, and subject to the same conditions. Provided that the bonuses distributed among the depositors of any railway in one year or half-year shall in no case exceed the compulsory deposits on their behalf during the same period.

XII.—In addition to the compulsory deductions under Rule III, the manager shall withhold from the salary of such depositor, and deposit again in the Savings Bank, one-twentieth part of any sum withdrawn under Rule XI. Such deduction shall be made whenever full salary is drawn, until the whole is refunded.

XIII.—When a Deposit Account is first opened, the depositor shall be required to record in his deposit-book under his signature, and in his own hand-writing, the names of any person or persons whom he believes to be his next-of-kin, or to whom he has bequeathed the whole or any portion of his deposits. The depositor should be invited to initial or revise this record half-yearly.

XIV.—If a depositor is dismissed from the public service, the manager may, with the sanction of the Director-General of Railways, withhold all or any part of the bonuses provisionally allotted to him with the interest accrued thereon, and pay to the depositor only the balance at his credit without such bonuses and the interest thereon.

HIGH COURT NOTICES.

Circular Order issued by authority of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

CIVIL.

No. 1, dated the 5th January 1880.

The Court, having had under consideration the results exhibited in the returns of oath on affidavits administered in the Civil Courts during the past year, has determined, in order to relieve judicial officers of a share of the work devolving on them, to appoint the Serishtadars of Judges' Courts to be Commissioners for the purpose of administering such oaths.

2. A copy of the Court's orders on the subject, with the rules for the guidance of the Commissioner attached, is therefore forwarded to each District Judge for delivery to the Serishtadar of his Court, together with the commission, which will be forwarded under separate cover.

3. In case of any change of incumbency, the name of the new officer should be reported, in order that a commission may be issued to him.

No. 7, dated the 21st February 1880.

UNDER the powers vested in it by section 652 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the Court is pleased to make the following rule for the guidance of District Judges in receiving applications for certificates under Act XXVII of 1860.

2. Every such application shall be verified by the applicant himself, unless the Court, for special cause to be assigned, permit otherwise. The application shall contain the following particulars, viz. that the person in respect of whose estate the certificate is applied for died on the _____; that to the best of the declarant's knowledge and belief, debts amounting to not less than _____ are due to the estate; that the deceased died testate or intestate, and if testate, shall state whether any executors were appointed, or if intestate, shall state who were the heirs of the deceased; and that the applicant is _____ (describing the right or title by which he claims); that he apprehends difficulty in collecting the debts unless the certificate be granted; and that the application is made bonâ fide for the purposes of the Act, and not otherwise.

No. 10, dated 9th February 1880.

The Government circular of the 21st September last, relating to the procedure to be observed in cases of property left by persons intestate, having been communicated to the Court by direction of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, the Court are pleased to cancel the circular order of the late Sudder Court, No. 74, dated 3rd January 1845. (Page 317, Carrau's Edition.)

2. The Court think it right to intimate that District Judges who wish to propose a change in procedure as to matters of this nature, which has been laid down by Circular order of the late Sudder Court, or by the High Court, should report to the Government through the Court, and not direct.

No. 11, dated 12th February 1880.

The attention of all Civil Judicial Officers is called to the Rules made by the High Court, regarding the issue of commissions under Section 386, Act X of 1877, as modified by Section 67, Act XII of 1879. * * * * *

2. These rules supersede the instructions contained in Circular Order No. 10, dated 31st May 1873, which is cancelled.

3. On the 15th of December of each year every District Judge shall submit to the High Court a list of all pleaders of the High Court attached to the several Courts in his district, who are willing to execute commissions under these rules during the ensuing year. From the lists so compiled, a general list shall be compiled by the Registrar of the High Court, and copies supplied to all District Judges for use in their own and subordinate Courts.

4. The names of the High Court Pleaders willing to execute commissions under the Rules during the current year should be reported to the Court with the least delay possible.

No. 12, dated the 21st February 1880.

The Court are pleased to issue the following instructions in supersession of those contained in Circular Order No. 38, dated the 16th December 1878:—

1. By Section 89 of the Indian Registration Act III of 1877 as amended by section 107, Act XII of 1879, the Court granting a certificate under Section 316 of the Code of Civil Procedure is required to forward copies of it to each registering officer within whose jurisdiction any part of the immoveable property comprised in such certificate is situate. These copies are filed in Book I by the registering officers, who, under Section 55 of the Act, have to maintain indexes containing certain particulars. To enable them to do this, it is necessary that the officers presiding in the Civil Courts should be careful to enter in the certificates—

- (1) the "addition" (as defined in Section 3, Act III of 1877) of the person who is declared to be the purchaser;
- (2) particulars sufficient to identify the property as required in Section 22, Act III of 1877;
- (3) the name of each registration sub-district in which any part of the property is situate.

2. As the law requires the original certificates to be stamped, the Courts shall not forward copy of the certificates to the Registry Office until the purchaser has tendered the necessary stamp and the original certificate has been duly drawn up. It is now a common practice for purchasers to refrain from taking the certificates in order to evade the payment of the stamp.

3. On each copy the amount of stamp duty paid on the original certificate under No. 16, Schedule I of the Stamp Act I of 1879 should be noted. Under No. 9, Schedule II of the same Act, the copies do not themselves require to be stamped. In their preparation,

* To be obtained on indent on the Superintendent of Stationery. however, forms* printed on paper of a uniform size, and having a margin for binding, must be used.

4. The Government has been moved to sanction the supply of similar printed forms on stamped paper for use in preparing the original certificates, and to authorize the use of adhesive labels to make up any small amount by which the impressed stamp may fall short of the sum chargeable as stamp duty. Should the Court's proposals be approved of, these forms also should be brought into use.

CRIMINAL.

No. 1, dated the 9th February 1880.

In supersession of circular order No. 2 of 18th January 1871, the High Court is pleased to direct that, except when the sentence passed upon any person by a Court of Session is simply that he pay a fine, without any order for imprisonment in default of payment, in which case the only warrant issued will be under Section 307, Criminal Procedure Code, the warrant to be sent to the officer in charge of the Jail under Section 302 shall set out in full the sentence passed. So far as the sentence is for imprisonment, the Jailor will give effect to it according to the terms of the warrant. Such portion of the sentence as directs imprisonment in default of payment of fine will be carried into effect by the Jailor subject to the provisions of Sections 68 and 69, Penal Code. It is not the duty of the Jailor to levy a fine, nor can he be required to receive it.

2. The levy of a fine imposed by a Sessions Judge by distress and sale of the property of the accused is to be made under a special warrant issued for that purpose only under Section 307, and not under a duplicate of the warrant sent to the Jailor under Section 302.

3. Sessions Judges are required by this Section 302 to furnish Magistrates with copies of their findings and sentences; the copy of the latter should be taken from the record of the trial, and not from the warrant issued to the officer in charge of the Jail.

H. J. REYNOLDS,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 14th day of August 1879.

PRESENT:

THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY IN COUNCIL.

WHEREAS by "The Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, 1862," it was enacted that on and after the first day of June one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, or such later day as might be fixed for the purpose by Order in Council, the Regulations contained in the table marked C in the schedule to the said Act should come into operation and be of the same force as if they were enacted in the body of the said Act; but that Her Majesty might from time to time, on the joint recommendation of the Admiralty and the Board of Trade, by Order in Council, annul or modify any of the said Regulations, or make new Regulations in addition thereto or in substitution therefor; and that any alterations in, or additions to, such Regulations made in manner aforesaid should be of the same force as the Regulations in the said schedule:

And whereas by the same Act it was further provided that whenever it should be made to appear to Her Majesty that the Government of any foreign country was willing that the Regulations for preventing collisions contained in Table C in the schedule to the said Act, or such other Regulations for preventing collisions as are for the time being in force under the said Act, should apply to the ships of such country when beyond the limits of British jurisdiction, Her Majesty might, by Order in Council, direct that such Regulations should apply to the ships of the said foreign country, whether within British jurisdiction or not; and it was further provided by the said Act that whenever an Order in Council had been issued applying any Regulation made by, or in pursuance of, the said Act to the ships of any foreign country, such ships should in all cases arising in any British court, be deemed to be subject to such Regulation, and should, for the purpose of such Regulation, be treated as if they were British ships:

And whereas by an Order in Council made in pursuance of the said recited Act, and dated the ninth day of January one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, Her Majesty was pleased to direct:—First, that the Regulations contained in the schedule to the said Act should be modified by the substitution for such Regulations of certain Regulations appended to the said Order;

Secondly, that the said Regulations appended to the said Order should, on and after the first day of June one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, apply to French ships, whether within British jurisdiction or not:

And whereas by several Orders in Council subsequently made, Her Majesty was pleased to direct that the Regulations appended to the said Order of the ninth of January one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, should apply to ships of the countries specified in the said Orders, whether within British jurisdiction or not:

And whereas by Order in Council, dated the thirtieth day of July one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, Her Majesty, on the joint recommendation of the Admiralty and the Board of Trade, was pleased to make certain additions to the Regulations appended to the said first-recited Order in Council, for the purpose of explaining Articles 11 and 13 of the said Regulations, and of removing doubt and misapprehension concerning the effect of the said two Articles:

And whereas the Admiralty and the Board of Trade have jointly recommended to Her Majesty that the Regulations contained in the Order in Council dated the ninth day of January one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and the additions to the said Regulations contained in the said Order in Council of the thirtieth day of July one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, shall be annulled from the first day of September one thousand eight hundred and eighty, and that there shall be substituted for the said Regulations and additions respectively the new Regulations hereinafter set forth:

And whereas it has been made to appear to Her Majesty that the governments of the several foreign countries mentioned in the second schedule hereto are respectively willing that the Regulations contained in the first schedule hereto shall apply to ships of the said countries respectively, whether within British jurisdiction or not:

Now therefore Her Majesty, by virtue of the powers vested in Her by the said recited Act, and by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to direct:—

First, that on and after the first day of September one thousand eight hundred and eighty, the Regulations appended to the said order in Council of the ninth day of January one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and the additions to the said Regulations contained in the said Order in Council of the thirtieth day of July one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, shall be annulled, and that there shall be substituted for the said Regulations and additions respectively the new Regulations contained in the first schedule hereto.

Second, that the said Regulations contained in the said first schedule hereto shall, from and after the first day of September one thousand eight hundred and eighty, apply to ships of the countries mentioned in the said second schedule hereto, whether within British jurisdiction or not.

C. L. PEEL.

FIRST SCHEDULE.

REGULATIONS FOR PREVENTING COLLISIONS AT SEA.

Preliminary.

ART. 1. In the following rules every steam-ship which is under sail and not under steam is to be considered a sailing ship; and every steam-ship which is under steam, whether under sail or not, is to be considered a ship under steam.

Rules Concerning Lights.

ART. 2. The lights mentioned in the following Articles, numbered 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, and 11, and no others, shall be carried in all weathers, from sunset to sunrise.

ART. 3. A seagoing steam-ship when under way shall carry—

- (a.) On or in front of the foremast, at a height above the hull of not less than 20 feet, and if the breadth of the ship exceeds 20 feet then at a height above the hull not less than such breadth, a bright white light, so constructed as to show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 20 points of the compass; so fixed as to throw the light 10 points on each side of the ship, viz. from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on either side; and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least five miles.
- (b.) On the starboard side, a green light so constructed as to show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass; so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on the starboard side; and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least two miles.
- (c.) On the port side, a red light, so constructed as to show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass; so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on the port side; and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least two miles.
- (d.) The said green and red side lights shall be fitted with inboard screens projecting at least three feet forward from the light, so as to prevent these lights from being seen across the bow.

ART. 4. A steam ship, when towing another ship, shall, in addition to her side lights, carry two bright white lights in a vertical line one over the other, not less than three feet apart, so as to distinguish her from other steam-ships. Each of these lights shall be of the same construction and character, and shall be carried in the same position, as the white light which other steam-ships are required to carry.

ART. 5. A ship, whether a steam-ship or a sailing ship, when employed in either in laying or in picking up a telegraph cable, or which from any accident is not under command, shall at night carry in the same position as the white light which steam-ships are required to carry, and, if a steam-ship, in place of that light, three red lights in globular lanterns, each not less than 10 inches in diameter, in a vertical line one over the other, not less than three feet apart: and shall by day carry in a vertical line one over the other, not less than three feet apart, in front of but not lower than her foremast head, three black balls or shapes, each two feet in diameter.

These shapes and lights are to be taken by approaching ships as signals that the ship using them is not under command, and cannot therefore get out of the way.

The above ships when not making any way through the water, shall not carry the side lights, but when making way shall carry them.

ART. 6. A sailing ship under way, or being towed, shall carry the same lights as are provided by Article 3 for a steam-ship under way, with the exception of the white light, which she shall never carry.

ART. 7. Whenever, as in the case of small vessels during bad weather, the green and red, side lights cannot be fixed, these lights shall be kept on deck, on their respective sides of the vessel, ready for use: and shall, on the approach of or to other vessels, be exhibited on their respective sides in sufficient time to prevent collision, in such manner as to make them most visible, and so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side nor the red light on the starboard side.

To make the use of these portable lights more certain and easy, the lanterns containing them shall each be painted outside with the colour of the light they respectively contain, and shall be provided with proper screens.

ART. 8. A ship, whether a steam-ship or a sailing ship, when at anchor, shall carry where it can best be seen, but at a height not exceeding 20 feet above the hull, a white light, in a globular lantern of not less than eight inches in diameter, and so constructed as to show a clear uniform and unbroken light visible all round the horizon, at a distance of at least one mile.

ART. 9. A pilot vessel, when engaged on her station on pilotage duty, shall not carry the lights required for other vessels, but shall carry a white light at the mast head visible all round the horizon, and shall also exhibit a flare-up light or flare-up lights at short intervals which shall never exceed fifteen minutes.

A pilot vessel, when not engaged on her station on pilotage duty, shall carry lights similar to those of other ships.

ART. 10. (a)—Open fishing boats and other open boats when under way shall not be obliged to carry the side lights required for other vessels; but every such boat shall in lieu thereof have ready at hand a lantern with a green glass on the one side and a red glass on the other side; and on the approach of or to other vessels such lantern shall be exhibited in sufficient time to prevent collision, so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side nor the red light on the starboard side.

(b)—A fishing vessel and an open boat when at anchor shall exhibit a bright white light.

(c)—A fishing vessel when employed in drift net fishing, shall carry on one of her masts two red lights in a vertical line one over the other, not less than three feet apart.

(d)—A trawler at work shall carry on one of her masts two lights in a vertical line one over the other, not less than three feet apart, the upper light red and the lower green, and shall also either carry the side lights required for other vessels, or if the side lights cannot be carried, have ready at hand the coloured lights as provided in Article 7, or a lantern with a red and a green glass as described in paragraph (a) of this Article.

(e)—Fishing vessels and open boats shall not be prevented from using a flare-up in addition if they desire to do so.

(f)—The lights mentioned in this Article are substituted for those mentioned in the 12th, 13th, and 14th Articles of the Convention between France and England scheduled to the British Sea Fisheries Act, 1868.

(g)—All lights required by this Article, except side lights, shall be in globular lanterns so constructed as to show all round the horizon.

ART. 11. A ship which is being overtaken by another shall show from her stern to such last-mentioned ship a white light or a flare-up light.

Sound Signals for Fog, &c.

ART. 12. A steam-ship shall be provided with a steam whistle, or other efficient steam sound signal, so placed that the sound may not be intercepted by any obstructions, and with an efficient fog horn to be sounded by bellows or other mechanical means, and also with an efficient bell. A sailing ship shall be provided with a similar fog horn and bell.

In fog, mist, or falling snow, whether by day or night, the signals described in this Article shall be used as follows, that is to say—

(a)—A steam-ship under way shall make with her steam whistle, or other steam sound signal, at intervals of not more than two minutes, a prolonged blast.

(b)—A sailing ship under way shall make with her fog horn, at intervals of not more than two minutes, when on the starboard tack one blast, when on the port tack two blasts in succession, and when with the wind abaft the beam three blasts in succession.

(c)—A steam ship and a sailing ship when not under way shall, at intervals of not more than two minutes, ring the bell.

Speed of Ships to be moderate in Fog, &c.

ART. 13. Every ship, whether a sailing ship or steam-ship, shall in a fog, mist, or falling snow go at a moderate speed.

Seering and Sailing Rules.

ART. 14. When two sailing ships are approaching one another, so as to involve risk of collision, one of them shall keep out of the way of the other as follows, viz.—

(a)—A ship which is running free shall keep out of the way of a ship which is close-hauled.

(b)—A ship which is close-hauled on the port tack shall keep out of the way of a ship which is close-hauled on the starboard tack.

(c)—When both are running free with the wind on different sides the ship which has the wind on the port side shall keep out of the way of the other.

(d)—When both are running free with the wind on the same side, the ship which is to windward shall keep out of the way of the ship which is to leeward.

(e)—A ship which has the wind aft shall keep out of the way of the other ship.

ART. 15. If two ships under steam are meeting end on, or nearly end on, so as to involve risk of collision, each shall alter her course to starboard, so that each may pass on the port side of the other.

This Article only applies to cases where ships are meeting end on, or nearly end on, in such a manner as to involve risk of collision, and does not apply to two ships which must, if both keep on their respective courses, pass clear of each other.

The only cases to which it does apply are, when each of the two ships is end on; or nearly end on to the other, in other words, to cases in which by day each ship sees the mast of the other in a line, or nearly in a line, with her own; and by night, to cases in which each ship is in such a position as to see both the side lights of the other.

It does not apply by day to cases in which a ship sees another ahead crossing her own course; or by night, to cases where the red light of one ship is opposed to the red light of the other, or where the green light of one ship is opposed to the green light of the other, or where a red light without a green light, or a green light without a red light is seen ahead, or where both green and red lights are seen anywhere but ahead.

ART. 16. If two ships under steam are crossing so as to involve risk of collision, the ship which has the other on her own starboard side shall keep out of the way of the other.

ART. 17. If two ships, one of which is a sailing ship and the other a steam-ship, are proceeding in such directions as to involve risk of collision, the steam-ship shall keep out of the way of the sailing ship.

ART. 18. Every steam-ship when approaching another ship, so as to involve risk of collision, shall slacken her speed, or stop and reverse if necessary.

ART. 19. In taking any course authorized or required by these Regulations a steam-ship under way may indicate that course to any other ship which she has in sight by the following signals on her steam whistle, viz.—

One short blast to mean—"I am directing my course to starboard."

Two short blasts to mean—"I am directing my course to port."

Three short blasts to mean—"I am going full speed astern."

The use of these signals is optional; but if they are used the course of the ship must be in accordance with the signal made.

ART. 20. Notwithstanding anything contained in any preceding Article every ship, whether a sailing ship or steam-ship overtaking any other, shall keep out of the way of the overtaken ship.

ART. 21. In narrow channels every steam-ship shall, when it is safe and practicable, keep to that side of the fairway or midchannel which lies on the starboard side of such ship.

ART. 22. Where by the above rules one of two ships is to keep out of the way the other shall keep her course.

ART. 23. In obeying and construing these rules due regard shall be had to all dangers of navigation, and to any special circumstances which may render a departure from the above rules necessary in order to avoid immediate danger.

No Ship under any circumstances to neglect proper precautions.

ART. 24. Nothing in these rules shall exonerate any ship, or the owner, or master, or crew thereof, from the consequences of any neglect to carry lights or signals, or of any neglect to keep a proper look-out, or of the neglect of any precaution which may be required by the ordinary practice of seamen, or by the special circumstances of the case.

Reservation of Rules for Harbours and Inland Navigation.

ART. 25. Nothing in these rules shall interfere with the operation of a special rule duly made by local authority relative to the navigation of any harbour, river, or inland navigation.

Special Lights for Squadrons and Convoys.

ART. 26. Nothing in these rules shall interfere with the operation of any special rules made by the Government of any nation with respect to additional station and signal lights for two or more ships of war, or for ships sailing under convoy.

Further, if any request be made to remove fittings or settings, and such be not complied with, the Inspector shall in like manner stop the working of the boilers.

X. I. There shall be opened in some convenient part of the town an office for the Commissioners for the Inspection of Boilers.

II. A Boiler Commission shall be appointed for Calcutta, to consist of the Commissioner of Police as President, and not less than three Commissioners to be appointed by Government from time to time; and it shall meet periodically (at least once a month) to arrange for the transaction of business.

III. The Inspector appointed under the Act shall also be Secretary to the Commission, and he shall attend the office and keep such records as the Commission may direct.

IV. The Commissioners shall have the power to appoint such Inspectors, as well as such assistants, as may from time to time be found necessary for carrying out the provisions of the Act, and they shall also have power to suspend or remove such Inspectors or assistants.

V. The Inspector shall have all the powers conferred on him by the Act; but whenever he considers it necessary to give the notice authorized by section 6, requiring owners or persons in charge of boilers to make alterations or additions, a copy of the notice served shall at the same time be forwarded by him to each member of the Boiler Commission. When an appeal is heard by the Commission, notice shall be given to the appellant, and any representation that may be made by him will be heard in the presence of the Inspector. The Inspector will also be heard, and local inspection made if necessary. The decision of the Commission will be given in writing, and such decision shall be final.

VI. The Inspector shall keep in the prescribed form a register containing dimensions and particulars of all boilers within the limits of the Act.

VII. The Inspector shall inspect these boilers in the regular order laid down in the index register list, unless any deviations from this order be specially sanctioned by the Commission.

VIII. There shall be two kinds of inspection of boilers—

(a) A thorough examination once every twelve months, inside and outside, to be made by the Inspector in person, for which purpose the boilers must be emptied, cool, and clean, and flues swept; and, if required by the Inspector, any parts or settings removed for a complete examination of the boiler and machinery in every part.

(b) There shall be during the twelve months not less than two ordinary examinations of every boiler while under steam. At such ordinary inspections the standard pressure-gauge shall be applied, and the condition of the safety-valve and steam-gauge noted.

The Inspector shall give one week's notice of every such intended thorough examination; and if after that notice the boilers are not cool, clean and ready for inspection on the date named, the Inspector shall prohibit the boilers from working, and shall report the case to the Commissioners. Further, if any request be made to remove fittings or settings, and such be not complied with, the Inspector shall in like manner stop the working of the boilers.
